The hash rate shows: we are in the midst of a digital gold rush.

Over the past five years, the hash rate of the Bitcoin network has increased significantly.

The current hash rate indicates the growing computational power and rising interest in mining.

“During a gold rush,
invest in shovels.”

ANDRÉ KOSTOLANY

The No 1 Tool for Mining

Just as shovels were sold in the past to mine for gold, today computational power is the essential tool for mining Bitcoin.

ASIC Market Size

ASICs (Application-Specific Integrated Circuits) are specifically designed and optimized for mining using the SHA-256 algorithm employed by Bitcoin.

ASICs offer the highest efficiency with minimal energy consumption compared to other hardware.
